ARIAS x A.I. and Listening

Dear all,

It's been a joy having spoken to each of you over the past months about your research on, and interest in, A.I. in relation to the Arts. As mentioned in conversation ARIAS is forming a working group on said topic, with the core-group already formed – Sabine Niederer / Andy Docket from Visual Methodologies (HvA), Tobias Blanke (UvA) and Flavia Dzoden (Sandberg Instituut). Our first meet-up is now being prepared and organised for Thursday 24th September.

You are warmly invited to join us that day in order to meet and exchange with peers from within the ARIAS network, raise fundamental questions on A.I. in the arts, and look together for further direction, towards (a) collaborative research project(s). After first getting to know one another's research interests in the morning, artists Femke Dekker, Martina Raponi and Sonia de Jager, offer a workshop on A.I. and Listening to trigger you further in the afternoon. (What is the role of attention in research, and how do we give this attention direction?)

More detailed information will follow after the summer break. For now we kindly ask you to pencil in the Thursday 24th of September in your agenda (!) and send us a short RSVP to confirm your participation: katie.clarke@arias.amsterdam.

Have a wonderful summer, take care,

Katie
